Miss Tibbetts Tells Academy Pupils of Work in U. S. Diplomatic Service

Miss Margaret Tibbetts, Gould '37, spoke to the students of Gould Academy concerning her training and work in the United States Diplomatic Service, where she is a consul. In her talk she spoke of the educational preparation needed, namely a foreign language based on Latin, knowledge of American History and above all the ability to read and write English so that one can express briefly and exactly what one wishes to say. Duties in the diplomatic service are to act as United States representatives in a particular country, to issue visas and passports, notarize legal documents and keep their "ear to the ground" in order to learn the attitude of people of the country concerning political and economic matters. Another duty is to carry on diplomatic negotiations regarding affairs that affect that particular country and the United States.

Miss Tibbetts has been located in London, England, for the last few years and plans to spend the next three years in the Belgian Congo. She stated that one of the advantages of this type of work was the extensive opportunity for traveling which was illustrated by the fact that Miss Tibbetts was in England during the coronation, in Austria for skiing during the winter and also visited Italy, Norway, and the Riviera. She has also traveled quite extensively in Africa.

Miss Tibbetts' presentation was very well organized and informative and received the undivided attention of the whole assembly.

COMMENTS FROM THE OFFICE OF THE TOWN MANAGER

It has been very satisfactory to see the good response the taxpayers have made on early payment of the 1954 taxes. We have received to date one third of the 1954 commitment. We will, of course, appreciate the continued effort of the remainder.

You have also responded very well to our recent suggestion that we could use to a good advantage outgrown or used clothing. Thank you.

RUMFORD WOMAN NAMED

CREW LEADER OF 1954 AGRICULTURAL CENSUS

Appointment of Mildred Laura Glinoff, 828 Somerset St., of Rumford, Maine as a crew leader for the 1954 Census of Agriculture was announced today by Field Supervisor, Raymond M. Flynn.

Mrs. Glinoff will direct a force of enumerators who will canvass all farms in Oxford County. She reported on Sept. 20, to the census agriculture field office at 96 Harlow St., Bangor, Maine, for a week of training.

The crew leader is one of the key people in the field operations of the Census of Agriculture. It is her responsibility to train the enumerators and supervise their work; plan and allocate work assignments; review the work of the enumerators and take remedial action where necessary; and to conduct difficult enumerations.

After attending the training conference, Mrs. Glinoff will return to her district where she will spend three weeks recruiting enumerators, checking enumeration district boundaries, and training enumerators in preparation for the start of the census on October 18, 1954.

NAVY SETS DECEMBER 11 FOR ANNUAL NROTC EXAM

The ninth annual competitive examination for high school seniors who desire to attend college and train for careers as Naval officers will be held throughout the nation on December 11, the Navy has announced. Application for the NROTC are now available, but must be received by November 20, the announcement added.

Successful candidates will start their Naval careers in colleges and universities across the country in 1955, with substantial financial assistance from the government. After a normal college education, graduates will be commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps, for active duty with the Fleet throughout the world.

Male citizens of the United States, between the ages of 17 and 21 are eligible to apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Persons who attain a qualifying score will be given the Navy's rigid midshipman physical examination next February. From the pool of qualified candidates remaining in competition, approximately 1,500 young men will be selected for appointment to the NROTC and the college of their choice.

Students enrolled in the Regular NROTC program will spend their summers on training cruises with the Fleet, and will receive $600 annual retainers pay until commissioned in addition to the normal college curriculum the midshipmen will study a planned course in Naval science. All tuition fees and books will be furnished by the Navy.

This college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty in the Navy and Marine Corps. Such candidates will be selected under a separate quota established for the services.

Applications are now available at all high schools, colleges, and U. S. Navy Recruiting Stations, or direct from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington, 25, D. C.

Mrs. George Parsons, Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Robert Keniston were among those attending the Western Maine meeting of Girl Scout leaders at Ellingswood Camp, Locke Mills, Thursday.

Daylight Time Extended One Month at Special Session of Legislature

A bill extending daylight saving time to October 30 passed House and Senate committees in a special session of State Legislature yesterday and was passed unanimously in today's session.

The measure is designed to place Maine in line with Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New Hampshire who have taken similar action, but has been opposed by several groups including radio and television who claim that much confusion over program would result.

The law just passed will be the State's only one affecting time except that adopting standard time. Towns which have not adopted daylight saving will not be affected.

TO HAVE BENEFIT GAME AT WEST PARIS SATURDAY

On last Sunday afternoon a group of baseball players met at the West Paris athletic field to discuss a proposed benefit baseball game for Gordon Doughty, a former Pine Tree League player who has been in the hospital for several weeks as the result of a bad injury to his leg.

COUNTY DELEGATE TO GO TO NATIONAL CONVENTION IN WASHINGTON

Extension groups in Oxford County have raised $35. to be used to pay the expenses of a delegate to go to the National Convention of the Women's Division to be held in Washington, D. C., in November. During the month of September chairman of Extension groups have appointed a committee of those members to consider who would be eligible to represent the county. Every group has an opportunity to choose one woman from its group. From this list of names one person will be chosen by a county committee. The delegate will leave on Saturday, October 30th and will travel with other Extension women by bus. Sunday is planned in Washington for the group and the convention will start on Monday, November 1. The women will return on Friday, Nov. 5.

Selections have already been made by Extension groups and the applications received in the county office. The county committee will consider these applications soon after October 1 to allow as much time as possible for the delegate who will be attending the convention.

Miss Joan Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bennett, has entered LaSalle Junior College, Andover, Mass., where she will major in medical technology.

Read Matthew 26:35-41.
O my Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me; nevertheless not as I will, but as thou wilt. (Matthew 26:39).

In the perfect way, Jesus lived the prayers He prayed. We, too, ought to live the prayers we express in words. To do so demands personal service on our part.

Many years ago a small group of Christian men met for prayer, asking that God would open the way to build a cathedral. They saw the need for a building set apart for worship, where they could through quiet meditation renew their faith in God. They fully realized that if their prayer was to be fulfilled, they would need the hands of an architect, the hands of masons, and the hands of carpenters.

The same is true in every relation involving doing God's will. I think of a woman who every day prayed for missionary work. Then one day she realized that her prayer involved a contribution to missionary funds. Out of her earnings as a domestic servant she gave a sacrificial offering each year. Praying hands must be one with praying hearts.

Prayer
Lead us, our Father, to those places of service which Thou hast prepared for us, and meet us there with Thy guidance and help. Take our hands and let them be consecrated, Lord, to Thee. In Jesus' name, Amen.

Thought For The Day
By God's grace we can live our prayers.
—J. Clifford Mitchell (England)

SUNDAY'S SERMON

Rev. Robert H. Harper
Living Witness

Lesson for September 26: Matthew 5: 13-16; Acts 8: 4-6; 11 Corinthians 5: 1-7.

Golden Text: Matthew 5: 16.

Salt has been employed from the remote past as a preservative of food and it is significant that Jesus told his disciples that they were the salt of the earth. A devoted husband once told the writer how he dreaded to take his wife to live at a sawmill where conditions were rough and many of the men were wicked. But she insisted on going with him and with pride he told what a fine effect her presence and her influence had over the place. But if the salt has lost its saltiness through adulteration, what good is it?

Jesus also likened Christians to a city set on a hill and to a light lifted on high. If the light borne by a man who is respected and trusted is allowed to grow dim and to be cut for lack of fuel and timely care, how great may the injury to those who have followed him as their example!

The love of Christ supports those who witness for him and makes them to bear a bright and shining light amid the darkness of sin. They must lay aside all personal considerations and even the thought of Jesus as a man to think of him as the everliving God who was in the world to reconcile men unto himself. This is our highest witness—to tell the world of a Savior who can cleanse and save unto the uttermost.

LOCKE MILLS

Mrs. Mary Mills, Corres.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McMullen of Dorchester, Mass., have returned home after visiting last week with Wesley and Bertha Kimball.

Sunday guests at the Kimball home were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Worcester and family of Dry Mills.

Happy Days

This is the time of the year when many of the older folks try to tell young folks, especially those going to school, that now are the happiest days of their lives. Certainly we hope that these days are happy ones, as many days should be, but it is surely unwise to continue to try to make another generation believe that the greater part of their lives will be spent in comparative gloom.

Childhood days may well be happy, and they may be our happiest. But let us remember that the troubles of schooldays are many and real, and lacking a perspective that may come with later years these earlier problems are the more apt to be confusing and discouraging. So perhaps older wisacres should hesitate before proceeding to generalize on the advantages of carefree youth.

Truly, the happiness of schooldays is without comparison as happiness goes. Fortunate indeed are the boys and girls who can grow up in the company of reasonable and understanding parents and teachers. Sympathetic associations are of untold good in encouraging the best in young or old. But let us remember that today's problems are many times enough to almost make us forget the blessings of yesterday which remain with us. And today's puzzling arithmetic "problem" can be as disheartening as a dismal financial puzzle of later years.

We believe it is quite possible to find as much happiness in later years—among friendly associates, by living in general one day at a time—as those of younger years are supposed to have by natural right. How many of us can remember what we worried about yesterday, or last year? Quoting Marcus Aurelius Antoninus: "Remember this,—that very little is needed to make a happy life."

Economic Highlights

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual — National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

Some months ago, it will be recalled, Secretary Dulles said that this country might be forced to make an "agonizing reappraisal" of its foreign policy, but that he hoped this would not happen. Now it has happened, and it is obvious that the "agonizing reappraisal" is underway.

The crowning blow, of course, was France's refusal to join the European Defense Community. That, to all intents and purposes, means the end of EDC and for more than three years EDC has been a cornerstone of American anti-Communist strategy. One irony here is that EDC was a French concept in the first place, and that it was vigorously supported by former French Premier and other top officials. But nationalistic feeling seems to be running strong in France these days. The idea of French soldiers serving alongside of German soldiers in a super-national army is, obviously, extremely distasteful to the majority of the French people. And fear of a resurgent Germany, a fear forged in two wars in which France sustained human and material destruction on a ghastly scale, dominates French thinking. There is another irony in this—for, EDC or no EDC, it is perfectly plain that German rearmament is as certain as anything can be in this chaotic world. But that didn't change the French attitude.

It is said that Britain could have saved EDC. But she would not give military forces to it even though she approved the idea. It is also said that French communists are fellow-travelers killed EDC. But the fact remains that French leaders, who are as passionately opposed to Communism as anyone, were against the plan. The death of EDC was certainly a victory for Communism, but, just as certainly, it was not achieved by the Communists.

What has happened is that U. S. leadership of the West is no longer anywhere near as potent as it was in England and in Europe. Here is a very real fear that we have been too aggressive, and that other policies promise a better chance of avoiding a third world of incalculable horror. U. S. News and World Report probably described the situation accurately when it said, "Friends and allies of the U. S. are going in for 'peaceful coexistence' with Communism whether the U. S. likes it or not." To many Americans, this course amounts to possible national suicide for the nations involved. But it is being advocated in high places not only in Europe, but in Japan and other Asian nations.

The situation is further complicated, from our point of view, by the fact that the sands are shifting under Adenauer's pro-American West German government. As Marquise Chirac recently wrote, "What comes after Adenauer no one will predict, except to say that it is almost certain to be bad — the resurgence of the extreme Nationalist and former Nazi forces that already have begun to come back."

There are among the great problems with which Washington must now deal. A bright note is found in the confident determination with which the President, Mr. Dulles, and the other men involved are facing them.

THIS GUIDING LIGHT MUST NOT FAIL

BRYANT POND GIRL JOINS AIR FORCE

A surprise farewell party was held at the Grange Hall in Bryant Pond Thursday evening. The guest of honor was Esther Cary who left September 13th for Texas for duty in the U. S. Air Force.

Rev G E Lindahl was master of ceremonies with Richard Rogers at the piano. The following program was enjoyed: Star Spangled Banner, group singing; Prayer, Rev G E Lindahl; America, group singing; Presentation of Choir Gift, Mrs Louie Sweetser; Poem, "Ode to Esther," Miss Jean Carlin; Duet, "What a Friend," Misses Leatrice Farnum and Kaye Ring; Presentation of Young People's Gift, Miss Jean Carlin; America, the Beautiful, group singing; Remarks and prayer, Rev G E Lindahl; God Be With You, group singing.

Calvin Cole played several selections at his accordion. Refreshments were served by Mrs Samuel Redman, Mrs Edward Hall, and Miss Margaret Cary. The cake was made by Mrs Annie Bryant.

Those present were Mr and Mrs Roland McMillan, Rumford; Mr and Mrs Edward Hall, Tommy and Carol, Mrs Edna Smith, Mrs Raymond Tripp, Raymond Jr., Don Parker, Mrs Clyde Knights, Bethel; Mr and Mrs Calvin Cole, John and Deborah, Arlene Chase, Sandra Martin, Locke Mills; Mrs Richard Rogers, Norway; Mrs Kenneth Saunders, Mrs Jeanette Carlin, Mrs Rena Howe, Miss Orissa Wolcott, Those sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs Ida Farnum, Mr and Mrs H Kirk Stowell, Mrs Ann Bryant, Mr and Mrs Shilne Poland, Mrs Barbara Billings, Mrs Margaret Wheeler, Mrs Marion Hoot, Mrs Francis Howe, Miss Edith and Clara Whitman, Mrs Mildred Buck, Mr and Mrs Rupert Farnum, Mrs Edith Hathaway and Mrs Phyllis Jordan.

of its Godless leaders ever expected that it would. It is the glittering common. True human brotherhood and love are spiritual qualities of life—and Communism denies the existence of the spiritual quality. Communism, in short, is driving toward creation of a world, wide animal farm over which the Godless leaders would apply the cold steel of earth-bound brains. They would be the masters, and the people the puppets. Freedom, worship of God, and human progress would cease to be. This is Communism.

DALE CARNEGIE

★ AUTHOR OF "HOW TO STOP WORRYING AND START LIVING" ★

HOWARD C. RYMER, 6415 N. Claremont Avenue, Chicago, Illinois, says that five years ago he was the most worried man in the entire world. He was so worried that he was on the point of going to see a psychiatrist. He couldn't sleep. Night after night he would go to bed at a reasonable hour and lie there awake, one hour, two hours, three hours. Then he would get up, walk the floor, smoke, read and perhaps after two or three tries finally drop off to sleep from exhaustion. He was worried because he was becoming a physical wreck.

Then he stumbled across a magazine article written by J. P. McEvoy, entitled "How to go to Sleep." The entire premise of Mr. McEvoy's system of going to sleep was based on the theory that a person cannot think of two things at one time. So he evolved a method whereby you must consciously think of relaxing. By doing this you cannot think of whatever may be troubling you. Howard tried this and found that it worked. He lies on the bed and "makes himself feel" like a dishrag. "Hands lying heavily on the bed he drops his head back and allows the muscles of his jaw to drop, as well as the muscles of his entire body. His thighs, his legs, his feet, each member is relaxed. The first thing he knows—or rather doesn't know—is that he is asleep. Some time the next day he thinks of it and says to himself, "Well, what do you know! It worked." And all he does is to relax!

SCANNING THE NEWS

OF CONSIDERABLE interest in the news is the announcement from the State Department regarding public hearings on proposals for revision of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT). This agreement was consummated after World War II by the United States and 33 other countries in an effort to reduce world trade barriers. Almost in conjunction, President Eisenhower let it be known from Denver that he will ask the 84th Congress to place foreign trade legislation high on the list of pressing business when it convenes next January 1.

As a matter of fact the President's foreign economic program was one area in the 83rd Congress where Mr. Eisenhower took a beating from the high tariff advocates within his party and he only recently himself raised the tariff on imported Swiss watch works at the behest of the large American watch manufacturers and over the stubborn protests of more than fifty smaller watch manufacturers. It will be remembered that early in the Spring of 1953 the President announced what was termed a bold, new foreign economic policy to reduce world trade barriers and he told the United States Chamber of Commerce that the nation's prosperity, its very security was dependent upon more trade with other nations and that such a policy was the very basis for his administration's whole foreign policy. This policy was to be the culmination of the slogan "Trade, not Aid."

The President, through the Congress, set up a 11-man committee headed by Clarence Randall which came through with a recommendation for lower tariffs and a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act. The Congress however refused to accept any of the recommendations of this committee, and the president was forced to settle with a bare one-year extension of Reciprocal Trade Act. This agreement was somewhat watered down. The action of the Congress proved conclusively that the high tariff advocates, long the traditional stand of the Republican party, were firmly in the saddle and refused to be budged.

The President, now, although he believes the nation's whole foreign policy rests upon the elimination of further trade barriers and many high tariffs which are a subsidy for some American business firms, is put in the paradoxical position of seeking the reelection of these very members of the Congress who ruthlessly shredded his foreign economic program in the 83rd Congress.

Some of the features of the proposed Eisenhower program included simplification of the customs machinery, repeal of the "Buy America" act, elimination of the quota system which are government controls on imports at the market place, convertibility of currencies as among reciprocal trade nations and gradual and substantial lowering of tariffs among the trade nations in GATT.

Readers will hear more about the Dixon-Yates contract which President Eisenhower ordered the Atomic Energy Commission to make, over the protest of a majority of the Commission. The Administration says the whole deal was merely a question of policy, that is to buy power from a private utility instead of the TVA where AEC has been buying most all of its power.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Boiled down, I say a good diagnosis of our U. S. A. prime ailments could be summed up as a state of "Confusion blended with speed." We tear around as if we were going some place. On the highways we run into and over some 100 or 200 persons per 24 hours. The only thing we accomplish by speed is to assist the business of the Undertaking trade. We hop a plane for Europe, Asia and where have you, where the striped pants boys with their pea and three shells send us home to ponder on what happened or how—and replenish our billfold.

This country is alright—a grand country, I say—but we don't seem to savvy our destination—just where we are headed. We need but a hint and we take off with a satchel full of cash to fix it. And on our backs we find we have 50,000 or a million free-wheeling, well-fed "experts" who say pretty soon everything will be fake. I am not against the Govt.—any Govt.—but our Govt. is not showing enough of ruggedness or thriftiness of 1776 verities that it must soon show. We need a slowing down—we cannot read the signs—they are only a blur. A national moratorium lurks out yonder—not too terribly far out yonder.

What Is Communism?

America is the great prize upon which the concentrated efforts of the Communist world conspiracy are focused. If our nation is to be at the peak of effectiveness against the rising, expanding might of this red menace, every citizen must first of all, understand the facts about it. Today comparatively few people know the true facts about this evil force which already has engulfed nearly half of mankind and whose unrelenting goal is the destruction of Christian civilization and the establishment of a new Godless world.

What is Communism? The substance of Communism is: (1) Atheism; (2) Materialism; and (3) Economic Determinism. One by one let us examine these three primary components.

The Substance

Atheism: denial of the existence of God. The first Russian disciple of Karl Marx, said to his companion, "Brother, I came to announce unto you a new gospel which must penetrate to the very soul of the world. The old world must be destroyed and replaced by a new one. The first lie is God; the second lie is right. When you have freed your mind from the fear of God, and from that childish respect for the fictions of right, then all the remaining chains that bind you... will snap and the world is free."

Materialism: since God doesn't exist according to Communist materialism, there must be merely a bundle of matter having no consciousness or soul through materialistic processes such as the chemical processes which produce minerals in the earth's surface, man was created. Man's power to think is, in fact, a natural product of the brain cells. As one animal among the human race on earth, individual man is insignificant. The race of man is what counts. The individual must be subordinated to collective man, or to society; or, until it withers away in the Communist scheme of things, to the State. The human race, the Communists say, can be improved only through scientific techniques of physical and intellectual breeding and growth.

Communist Sociology

Economic Determinism: man's economic environment shapes his personality, character and life. No one is individually responsible, in other words, for his own character or thoughts, his success or failure. All this is determined by economic environment at birth and by the exterior economic factors in life. The Communists say capitalism is a combination of "greedy, greed, exploitation of the masses," creating the "class struggle" and warping people's minds. It must be destroyed, they say, for the sake of the improvement of the human race.

Herbert Philbrick, who spent nine years as a KKK member deep within the Red underground, says: "Facile secret meetings we were taught over and over again that it was impossible for Communism and capitalism to exist in the same world together—one or the other would be destroyed." And Philbrick concludes: "Human society cannot hope to exist with the cancer of Communism. Either one must be destroyed or the other will surely die."

Socialism Too

Communism employs a Socialist economic system. The government owns and operates the industries and farms, and the facilities of distribution. Workers are paid by the government and the government provides economic security to all. The final economic goal of Communism is nationwide and worldwide collectivization. And the highest promise of Communism is the elimination, altogether, of central government and overriding laws.

In this final stage, society on earth would be formed of groups of people (collectives) living in perfect harmony, without need of any supervisory governing. But this last stage of Communism, this last never would be reached; and none

OXFORD PAPER COMPANY INVITES PUBLIC TO OPEN HOUSE NEXT WEEK

The management and employees of the Oxford Paper Company will hold an open house for the public at the Oxford Paper Company's mills in Rumford on Thursday, September 30; Friday, October 1; Saturday, October 2; it has been announced by T. F. Spear, Vice President, Public Relations. Hours during which visitors to Oxford can start tours of the big papermaking plant are: Thursday and Friday from 10 a. m. to 7 p. m. and Saturday from 10:00 a. m. to 12 p. m.

Spear said that the purpose of the open house is to give the public an opportunity to see all phases of the manufacture of book and specialty papers and to see the many improvements made at the Oxford mill since the end of World War II. More than $30,000,000 has been invested in new structures, machinery, and equipment during the past eight years.

A parking area for visitors to the Oxford mill will be provided on Congress Street, Rumford, and buses will provide transportation to and from the mill during the three days of the open house. Tours of the mill for visitors will start at the new Lower Station of the Rumford Falls Power Company and at the Oxford Accounting and Woodlands Building, both located at the end of Congress Street in Rumford.

An added attraction for visitors to Oxford will be the opportunity to tour the new Lower Station of the Rumford Falls Power Company which was completed this month. This new power plant represents an investment of more than $2,000,000 by the Rumford Falls Power Company in a redevelopment of some of the Oxford Paper Company's water power sources. The plant houses two 8,000 horse power turbines connected directly to two 4,400 kilowatt to cycle electric generators plus all necessary operating equipment.

All the major production departments of the Oxford mill will be open to visitors and refreshments will be served at the end of the tour.

V. A. NEWS LETTER

Veterans considering the financing of homes, farms or business ventures with the aid of GI loan guarantees must remember that, although the Veterans Administration guarantees a portion of the loan, the lender makes final decision as to the terms of the loan.

Manager M. L. Stoddard of the VA Center, Togus, Maine, pointed out that under the law the VA may guarantee up to 60% of the veteran's loan, with a maximum guarantee of $7500; that VA may guarantee a home loan for a period of 20, 25 or 30 years, and a business loan for as many as ten years; and that VA requires no down payment on the purchase of a home, farm or business.

However, Stoddard emphasized, VA's role in the loan transaction is simply to underwrite the veteran as a good credit risk. Since the bank or lending agency furnishes the money, it is up to the veteran to come to terms with the lender regarding the amount of the mortgage, the repayment terms and down payment requirements.

Two regulations lenders may not change: they may not charge more than 4 1/2 per cent interest, and they may not refuse repayment of the loan from the veteran at any time.

World War II veterans have until July 25, 1957, to negotiate loans with the aid of VA guarantees. Veterans with service since June 27, 1950, the start of the Korean war, have ten years from the end of the current emergency, a date which has not been determined by Congress, to take advantage of this benefit.

CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE TO BE TAKEN IN MAINE IN OCT.

Starting on October 18 Maine farmers will fill out questionnaires in the national 1954 census of agriculture. The Bureau of Census is asking that all farmers cooperate. Copies of the Census questionnaire will be mailed to farmers before the enumeration begins on October 18. A census worker will call at each farm to collect the completed questionnaire and, if necessary, to help the farmer in filling out the form. The form will include about 100 questions, many of which can be answered by "yes" or "no".

EASTERN STATES EXPOSITION BEING HELD THIS WEEK

Hundreds of Maine farm people will be among the thousands attending the Eastern State Exposition at West Springfield, Mass., this week. The exposition dates are from September 18 to 26. Seventy-five 4-H club members and leaders, several Future Farmers of America, nine homemakers who will serve baked Kennebec potatoes, state Green Pastures winners, and many other people will be included in the Maine delegation.

HURRICANE PROPERTY DAMAGE DEDUCTIBLE LOSS

Whitney L. Wheeler, Director of Internal Revenue, Augusta, today advised taxpayers that the recently enacted Internal Revenue Code of 1954 made no substantial change in the provisions of law which permit a deduction for losses sustained as a result of the destruction of or damage to property owned by a taxpayer, if the losses were caused by storms, floods, or other casualties.

Such losses are deductible whether or not the property is used in a trade or business, for the production of income or solely for personal purposes. Property used for personal purposes includes residence property, furniture, automobile, boats and many other forms of property.

Mr. Wheeler further stated that taxpayers may obtain information as to the method of determination of the allowable casualty loss and the applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code from the District Director of Internal Revenue for the state in which they reside. At the latter office, qualified employees will be available to assist taxpayers in the consideration of individual problems and preparation of their 1954 returns during the filing period. In view of the substantial losses suffered and the resulting problems which will arise in the preparation of income tax returns for the year 1954, information releases through the press, radio and other means will be available by the Internal Revenue Service during the tax filing period.

District Director Wheeler also stated that taxpayers should realize that they have the burden of proof with respect to any claimed deductions for Federal income tax purposes. Since the valuation of property is of extreme importance in determining the amount of loss sustained, any records such as checks, vouchers, and receipts, which evidence the cost of property destroyed or damaged, should be assembled and retained. In some cases of substantial loss, or damage, or damage, appraisals may be required to establish the amount of the loss sustained. Photographs of residence property, which show the condition of the property before and after the casualty, are sometimes of value in arriving at the extent of the damage caused by the casualty.

He further advised taxpayers that any invoices, checks, or receipts which evidence the cost of repairs, or other expenditures required to restore the property to its former usefulness, should be retained. Any moneys received from the Red Cross, Disaster Relief Committees or any other similar source, in the nature of reimbursement for losses resulting from the casualty, should be kept.

Mrs. R. M. Fleet, Corcoran. Mrs. Bertha Bean entertained three of her cousins and one second cousin for a day recently.

The lucky bear hunter this week was George Reynolds of this community. He is a second year student at Gould Academy and one of our promising young hunters.

Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Onofrio, Mrs. Laura Bennett and Mrs. Baker of Bethel called at R. M. Fleet's last Wednesday.

An old-time hunter from Scarborough was in town Sunday with his wife and their friends. They called at R. M. Fleet's and told of the damage done by the hurricanes in their part of the state. It was much worse than here.

Mrs. Lina Reynolds worked at Charles Valentine's Sunday.

Roger Reynolds is home from his job in Vermont.

Mrs. Edwin Brown, Elsie and Gene, and Mrs. Edwin Merrill and two girls, took in the Norway fair Saturday.

WORTH REPEATING

"It's not a coincidence that socialists and communists and all the advocates of totalitarian government spend much of their energy denouncing such institutions as the stock exchange. For investment, which the exchanges make possible for everyone, is the heart and soul of the free enterprise system. And if that system ever collapses, all the other freedoms will die with it." - Montpelier (Vt.) Argus.

"Success of an economy program in government depends a great deal on attitude. It's not enough for the upper echelon to preach cost-cutting if the sub-department heads or clerk down the line never heard of the idea or are uncooperative." - Hudson (Mass.) Sun.

"Because it reaches so broadly and deeply into every phase of modern activity, whether it be in the home, the hospital, the factory or the business house, the per capita consumption of electricity is a reliable indicator of a nation's development and progress, as well as its growth." - Lynn (Mass.) Telegram-News.

NEWBY MAN AT FORT DIX

Private Frederic O. Wight of North Newry, Maine, has arrived at Fort Dix, N. J., and has been assigned to Co. C, 365th Inf. Regt. of the 69th Infantry Division for eight weeks of basic training.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Wight of North Newry.

Prior to entering the service, Private Wight attended Gould Academy, Bethel, and graduated in the class of 1950.

During his training he will receive instruction in general military subjects, infantry weapons and tactics, as well as character guidance.

After completing this phase of training, he will be given a two week leave and one of the following assignments: (1) receive eight more weeks of advanced infantry training in either light or heavy weapons; (2) be enrolled in one of the eleven specialist courses conducted by the 69th Infantry Division Artillery; (3) be transferred to another Army post for training in one of the hundreds of Army technical schools.

CARD OF THANKS

To all our children, relatives, our friends and neighbors, both far and near we want to say "Thanks" and more "Thanks" for all you did to make our 40th wedding anniversary such a lovely party. While it was not the complete surprise they had planned it to be—it was full of small surprises which made it all the nicer. We wish to thank each and all for the beautiful gifts—the money and cards and hope that those that attended enjoyed it as well as we did. It was greatly appreciated and will long be a very pleasant memory.

God Bless You All.

SOUTH WOODSTOCK

Olive P. Davis, Corres.

The 13th of September was a date of much importance to the Willing Workers of South Woodstock, being the 41st anniversary of the founding of the organization.

The Portland Press Herald has recently featured an article and a picture of the present officers of the Club relating its organization and activities through the years.

The Anniversary meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wilma Hendrickson. The usual business meeting was carried out, during which Mrs. Hendrickson displayed the cloth which was purchased for the back and ash work for a quilt which is being made.

The highlight of the evening was the anniversary cake made in the form of a replica of the Union Church, the upkeep of which has been the project of the Willing Workers through the years. The cake was made by Olive Tuell.

Those present for the occasion were: Mrs. Laura Halkedeen, Mrs. Cynthia Lamb, Mrs. Jessie Andrews, Mrs. Alta Waterhouse, Mrs. Barbara Cash, Mrs. Myrtle Thurlow, Mrs. Patty Thurlow, Mrs. Miriam Morgan, Mrs. Olive Tuell and the hostess, Mrs. Wilma Hendrickson, and a guest from Massachusetts, Mrs. George C. Shepherd.

Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Brown of Canton were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guyon Davis, Sunday, Sept. 12th. The occasion was the 85th birthday of George Davis and the 73rd birthday of Mr. Brown. Mr. Brown is Mrs. Guyon Davis' father.

In the afternoon Mrs. Bertha Packard Hatch of Kennebunkport paid a short call at the Davis' home. She was on her way back from a trip to Vermont. This was a pleasant surprise to Mr. Brown as this is his sister and neither knew the other would be there. The afternoon was spent in happy family chatter.

Charles Bane spent the week with his daughter, Mrs. Walton Corbett and family so he could take in the Oxford County Fair.

Roger Strout who is in the armed forces was home for a few days furlough.

Those who have 100% in spelling in the Union School are as follows: 4th—Robert Benson, Rusty Strout, Leroy Kennison, James Kennison, Elaine Koskela; 5th—Nettie Cox; 6th—Hilda Andrews, Patsy Davis, Linda Waterhouse, Geneva Silver, Patricia Silver; 7th—Kenneth Poland; 8th—Dorothy Bean, Hazel Crocker, Merle Cox, Jesse Pierce; 9th—Nancy Kennison; 2nd—Jackson Andrews, Leon Poland Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Shepherd and Alice Marshall, who have been staying at Deer Isle this summer were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shepherd of South Weymouth, Mass., spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Andrews. They are spending the rest of their vacation at camp Eureka, on Pleasant Pond, Summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenwood Andrews were in Massachusetts Thursday and Friday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allanack, who have been living in Harlan Andrews' rent, moved to Bryant Pond to be near his work in the Newell Store. They will live in the rent over the store.

Many from this way attended the Oxford County Fair between showers.

Word has been received that the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Andrews has been having the old fashioned measles. Mrs. Andrews and Alana Andrews have been entertaining the flu. They are at Camp Dovens near James who is in training there.

BROWNS
Brownie Troop No. 5 met Tuesday afternoon with 8 members present. We had two special events to celebrate, a going away party for Debbie Howe, and Judy Myers has a new brother. We made candy and had punch.—D. Morrill, reporter.

SPORTS FLASHES

The Sporting News by J. G. Taylor Spink

Lopez Proves "Nice Guys" Can Win Pennants

Leo Durocher once made a statement that baseball probably always will remember, "Nice guys," he said, "don't win pennants."

That's being disproved this year, says The Sporting News. The Cleveland Indians are pennant-winners, and their manager, Al Lopez, definitely comes in the class of "nice guys." To many, many people in the game, Lopez is one of the nicest guys in all baseball.

On the Indians' last visit of the season in Boston, a veteran sports writer said something like this to his press box associates: "I like to see the Indians come to town. This Lopez is a marvelous guy and the whole club seems to be patterned after him. They're all so pleasant and approachable that it's refreshing."

That wins the 100 per cent endorsement of J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of The Sporting News. There's aren't any "bad guys" among the Indians, he says, because Lopez wouldn't tolerate them. While Lopez is certainly not a hard taskmaster or a tyrant, he simply gets rid of the lazy ones and those who break rules.

Lopez himself is on record on that. "What's the sense of lecturing them or fining them?" he once said. "They're adults. If they don't play our way, let them play their own way—somewhere else." He virtually cleaned house after the 1953 season, getting rid of several problem cases. Lopez also gets rid of the gripers, those constitutionally unhappy. As he puts it, a happy club is a team club.

Anyone who has ever played for Lopez, says Spink, speaks highly of him. Even those he sent away. When you ask any of these men about him, they usually say, "If you can't play for him, you can't play for anybody."

Lopez has been criticized from time to time for not being a more fiery manager. The front office is known to have suggested a little more lecturing of players. But Lopez is reported to have replied that he can't do anything he doesn't feel. "I don't believe in that kind of managing," he said. "In football, pep talks might be valuable to key up the players for a certain game. In baseball, we play every day, 154 times a year. You play better when you're relaxed. If I tried to be mean and nasty, it would be an act. It wouldn't be me. I'm not a whip cracker."

On the field of off, says Spink, Lopez never criticizes a player openly. If he has to say something about a mistake, he waits until he can see the man privately. "The fellow feels bad enough about a mistake," he says. "After he cools off, we can reason it out better so that it won't happen again."

Lopez, while gentle, takes defeat hard. It takes him several hours to shrug it off. But he doesn't take it out on the rockheads. Bob Lemon once said that there's something worse than losing. That is to see Lopez after a loss. "It kills us," Lemon said, "to see the look on his face."

Discussing the manager at some length, Lemon said there's nothing phony about him. "You can talk man-to-man with him," he said, "and he'll always give you a straight answer. He never hedges, never gives an answer that doesn't make sense. He's not a showboat or pop-off. It grips me when I read about this one or that one for Manager of the Year and they don't mention Al."

From what other Indian players have said, Lemon spoke for all of them. For that matter, says The Sporting News, for just about all of baseball.

Heading all three agricultural divisions of the University of Maine is Arthur L. Deering. He's Dean of agriculture, heading the Extension Service, Experiment Station, and College of Agriculture.

HAPPY HERDSMEN

On Sept. 15, the Happy Herdsmen met at the Legion Rooms. The meeting was called to order by Vice President Florence Merrill. We gave the Flag Salute and the Club Pledge.

The Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were read and accepted. Ten members and one visitor, Franklin Chapman, were present. We talked about taking our animals to Norway Fair. Eleven animals are going.

Survivors include her husband, Frank I. Hale, West Bethel; two sons, Norman I. West Bethel, and Lester N. New Haven, Conn.; seven sisters, Mrs. Harry Levy, Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Leo Kelley, Brooklyn, N. S., Mrs. Warren Greene and Mrs. Andrew Squizzero, Arlington, Mass., Mrs. John Thorne, Norwich, Conn., Mrs. Ralph Hood, Berlin, N. H., and Mrs. Myron Bryant, Bethel; and two grandchildren.

Funeral services with Rev. Robert Carter officiating were at the Greenleaf funeral home at 2 p. m. Monday. Interment was in Evans Cemetery, Gorham, N. H.

BARTLETT - ROLFE

West Bethel Union Church was the scene of a pretty candlelight wedding, Saturday, Sept. 18, at 4 p. m. when Miss Patricia Mae Rolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rolfe, West Bethel, became the bride of Bruce Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bartlett, Marblehead, Mass.

The church was decorated with baskets of white and shrimp colored gladioli and candelabra.

Proceeding the double ring ceremony, performed by Rev. Peter Gowing, a student at the University of Maine, Miss Janice Lord, Bethel, sang, "Through the Years," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Laurence Lord played traditional wedding music on the organ.

Miss Rolfe, who was given in marriage by her father, was attractive in a floor length gown, fashioned with a fitted bodice of chantilly lace, long pointed sleeves, a full skirt of chantilly lace with a tulle flounce, over an underskirt of satin; a finger tip veil of nylon net was attached to a Juliet cap of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book with three white orchids and streamers.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Kneeland, West Bethel, wore a floor length pink gown with a nylon crepe bodice and bolero and a nylon net skirt over taffeta, matching headband and slippers. She carried a cascade of white gladioli and ivy.

Bridesmaids, Miss Janice Lord, and Miss Jean Porter, Marblehead, Mass., wore aqua gowns, headbands, and slippers, fashioned similar to the maid of honor's. They carried cascades of shrimp colored gladioli and ivy. Flower girl, Sue Kneeland, wore a floor length gown of shrimp color fashioned with a taffeta bodice and bolero with nylon net skirt over a taffeta underskirt. She carried a small cascade of white gladioli and ivy.

John Heath, Marblehead, Mass., was best man; ushers were Earl Newman, Swampscott, Mass., and Eldred Rolfe, West Bethel, brother of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a mauve silk shantung dress with matching hat, brown accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The groom's mother wore a beige fallo dress with brown accessories and a brown orchid corsage.

Gifts to the bride's attendants were pearl necklaces, while the groom presented his with cigarette lighters and identification bracelets.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at Shelburne Inn, Shelburne, N. H. The receiving line stood under an archway of evergreen with a white wedding bell and white orchids.

The guest book was circulated by Miss Joanne Shepherd, Beverly, Mass., cousin of the groom, Miss Sally Brown, Bethel, and Miss Joan Edwards, Belknap Falls, Vt., had charge of the punch bowl.

Mrs. Clayton Kendall presided at the refreshments table. The wedding cake was cut and served by Mrs. Charles Day, Locke Mills, aunt of the bride. Miss Kaye Wilson, Bethel, had charge of gifts.

Following the reception the young couple left for a week's trip to Montreal. The bride's traveling ensemble was a brown plaid suit with brown accessories and a white orchid corsage. Upon return they will reside in Bethel.

Mrs. Bartlett is a graduate of Gould Academy and Burdett College, Lynn, Mass., and is employed in the Personnel Office at Oxford Paper Co., Rumford.

Mr. Bartlett graduated from Swampscott High School, Swampscott, Mass., and attended evening classes at Boston University. He is employed by Bethel Appliance Company.

Guests were present from Lynn, Mass., Marblehead, Mass., Beverly, Mass., Swampscott, Mass., York Beach, Bethel, Portland, Gilead, Locke Mills, and Gorham, N. H.

A dinner party following the wedding rehearsal Friday night was given by the groom's parents at Shelburne Inn. Those present were Miss Patricia Rolfe, Bruce Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Kneeland, Sue Kneeland, Miss Jean Porter, Jane Edwards, Earle Newman, John Heath, Eldred Rolfe, and Mrs. Flora Barnes.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Walker and Diana, West Bethel, and Miss Dorothy Wild and Donald Wild, Shelburne, were at Hebron, last Tuesday.

Miss Jean Porter and John Heath of Marblehead, Mass.; Earle Newman, Swampscott, Mass., returned home Sunday after spending several days with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rolfe.

Misses Justine Owen, Winnie Michael and Betty Campbell, Lynn, Mass., were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Coulombe and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rolfe.

Miss Edith Lombard has returned to Upton after working for several months for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Perry.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
And as ye would that men should do unto you, do ye also to them likewise.—(St. Luke 6, 31.)

None of us wish to be made to feel cheap, inferior, unloved, unwanted. Then why should we not be careful in all ways to keep from making others feel that way? It is so easy, too, and so inwardly rewarding, to give love instead of hate, a smile instead of a frown.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Pudge Fingers
1/2 cup butter or substitute
3 eggs, slightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup sifted all purpose flour
1/2 cup sifted chocolate, melted
1/2 cup broken custards
Cream butter with salt. Gradually stir in sugar. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Stir in flour and add melted chocolate and nuts. Spread batter in cake pan 10 x 6 x 3 which has been greased and lightly floured. Bake in a moderate (350°F.) oven for 35 minutes. If desired, these may be baked and frozen. Remove from freezer an hour before serving.

Add them to the batter and bake as for regular pudge.

Combine pieces of veal steak and pork steak, and in circles and slices to a shaver. These are baked for an hour in a moderate oven for a tasty dish.

Cabbage cooked evenly to a darkish vegetable, but even done as when you add some finely sliced onion to the water in which it is cooked.

An interesting way to preserve potatoes when needed ones stored in airtight glass jars, they filled in a water-glass jar, in the water, which is water salt, and sugar.

GOULD ACADEMY

The Student Council held their first meeting of the school year on Thursday and elected the following officers:

President: William Daley of Augusta.

Vice President: Jane Smith of Bethel.

Secretary: Patricia Allen, East Hebron.

Treasurer: Wendell Bragg, Wentworth Location.

Carl Grover and David Willard of Bethel were elected representatives of the Student Council on the School Assembly Committee.

Dorothy Foster, Bethel, Iva Rugg, Stoneham, Barbara Hulbert, Bethel, and Arlene Chase, Locke Mills, of the Future Homemakers of America, a home economics club, presented a very interesting aid in assembly entitled "The Recipe for a Good School Year at Gould."

The recipe which the girls very capably demonstrated is as follows:

First, we need 293 outstanding Gould students. Combine these with 23 expertly informed faculty members, add a heaping teaspoonful of punctuality from all, and 1 1/2 cups of individual participation. Stir in friendliness and mix well. Separate bubble gum, fidgeting and whispering; throwing spit balls, slumping and other improper school manners and add to the basic ingredients. Cream in consideration and politeness; then fold in a large amount of assuming responsibility and attentiveness. Mix well and bake at Bethel's cool temperatures for the rest of the year. While it is baking, prepare a frosting of the following ingredients: Leave home in a good mood; 293 students properly dressed. Add one smile for each face. Flavor with one teaspoon of act-up-of-quietness in the corridors, proper school manners, a few thank-yous, and language becoming to any student. To decorate the frosting, top off with perfect attendance and another heaping tablespoon of punctuality. These ingredients, well combined, yield a delightful school year.

The first of the School Assembly Service Programs will be presented in Hanscom Hall Friday morning, Sept. 24, at 8:30 a. m.

Glenn L. Morris will present a program entitled "Marvels of Science," an extravaganza of science and fun. Mr. Morris is a former university teacher of physics who has become a nationally known specialist in teaching through laughs and gasps. Although his program may sometimes give the effects of magic it contains no trickery. He has given nearly 12,000 performances to coast to coast audiences, and it is estimated to be one of America's two greatest authentic science shows. The public is cordially invited to attend the performance on Friday morning.

Miss Dolores F. Baldyga

SOPHANO TO SING HERE NEXT THURSDAY EVENING

On the evening of the last Thursday of this month, in the William Bingham Gymnasium at Gould Academy, all who enjoy musical entertainment are privileged to hear a varied program by a rising young lyric soprano, Dolores F. Baldyga, of Clinton, Massachusetts. Miss Baldyga has toured in a number of states, has been appearing regularly at the Isabella Gaedner Museum in Boston, and has sung at Tanglewood.

A rich fare of melody from middle Europe, England, and America will be offered. Among other favorites, the artist sings an aria by Mozart, a song from "Romeo and Juliet" which brings out a sense of vitality and joy in living, a number of German and Polish musical patterns of thought, and "Holiday Song" by William Schumann, well-known contemporary composer, American.

Under sponsorship of Gould Academy and the Music Appreciation Group of Bethel, this recital offers an evening's entertainment of value, and at little expense.
